Live-to-Tell: Leadership Traits You Need

Part 1: Developing Personal Leadership

For today's business owners and freelancers, leadership skills often get pushed to the side or considered a luxury that time doesn't provide. However, allowing this to happen leads to the Dissonance Trap: the downward spiral of self-sacrifice syndrome and failed expectations. To counter dissonance in business, a business owner must be able to lead themselves. At this talk, three personal leadership legs are presented to support their journey to success.

Get empowered to take action:

- Avoid the Dissonance Trap
- Develop Emotional Intelligence
- Put Tough Things First
- Keep the Faith
